E-Learning & Training Courses

Lingotek offers the industry's most advanced tools for localizing course content. Our cloud-based, cutting-edge technology routes translated course data at scale & in real-time, replacing cumbersome offline processes that threaten the usability & accuracy of course content. Our connectors integrate and automate translation inside all of the top learning management systems (LMS) & any content management systems (CMS) that may be used to support your e-learning projects.

Game Translation & Localization

Lingotek can integrate our industry-leading TMS with your application's code repository to automate the process of identifying the UI strings, getting them translated, and round-tripping them back into your code repository. We also offer professional translation services for video game localization.
