Language Service:

Software Localization

What we offer

Agile software localization & integration. Through a full range of software localization services, Lingotek helps clients succeed in the global market by localizing their products & software applications into any language. Our process & integration ensure that all localized software is functionally, linguistically, & culturally flawless.
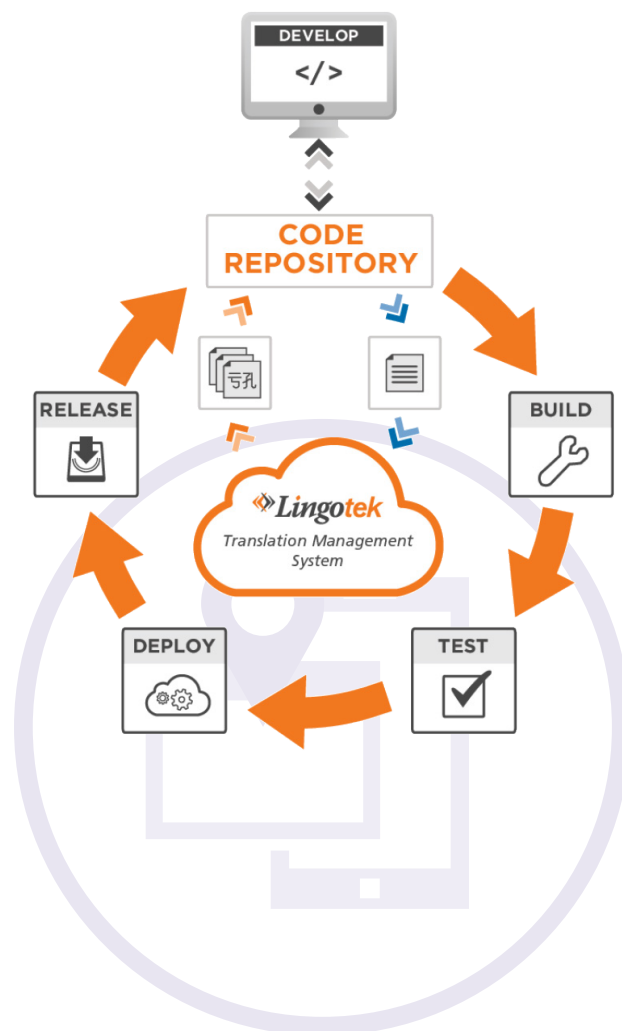

The Translation Network

- Industry-leading translation management system (TMS)
- Tech-enabled Language Services
- Lingotek - Inside Connectors that offer deep integration with your web applications, ensuring the continuous translation & delivery of your multilingual content.

How it Works

Lingotek's integration with your application's code repository automates the process of identifying UI strings, translating them, & round-tripping them back into your code repository. Integrating globalization and automating continuous deployment inside your software applications eliminates human errors that can slow down localization updates.

Lingotek's software localization ensures every global app & web property contains the latest code as soon as it is released.
